

Dear members of StuMedAnth,
the EASA Medical Anthropology Student Network,

We would like to invite you to the 1st StuMedAnth Meeting

February 11th-12th 2010

hosted by :

the Institute for Social Anthropology,
Free University Berlin, Germany

PART I – MEMBERS PRESENTATIONS

Thursday, 9.30 am – 6 pm, Friday, 10 am – 1 pm

With this meeting, we want to offer you a possibility to get to know each other, to present your research, to discuss questions, and get in touch with people interested in similar topics. We welcome paper presentations as well as less “conservative” forms of presentations: photographs, notes from field diaries, videos, etc. Each of the presentations will be about 15 min, leaving enough time for lively discussions.

The presentations will be grouped into topics (see below). Unfortunately, we haven't received CVs/research information from all of you yet. Therefore, we had to take a guess on which topics might be interesting for our members.

- Panel (1) – Gender and Health
- Panel (2) – Medical Pluralism
- Panel (3) – Migration and Health
- Panel (4) – Anthropology of medical biotechnologies
- Panel (5) – Methodologies and Ethics of Field Research

PART II – WORKSHOP ON APPLIED ANTHROPOLOGY,

with Dr Rachael Goberman-Hill
& Dr Kathryn Tomlinson
Friday, 2.30 pm – 5.30 pm

We would like to invite you to participate in this workshop with Rachael Goberman-Hill, member of the EASA Medical Anthropology Network committee, and Senior Research Fellow at the Clinical Science at North Bristol, University of Bristol, UK and Kathryn Tomlinson, Senior Anthropologist, UK government.

The workshop will focus on possible career paths in Applied Anthropology and on identifying transferable skills we have developed as students of anthropology.

Please register for the meeting and send your 300 words proposals by November 30th 2009 through the form:
