

Report from the Anthropology of Security Network (AnthroSec) 2017

2017

Together with the EASA network PACSA we organised the 6th biannual meeting, entitled “The Making of Peace, Conflict and Security. Dynamics of Inclusion and Exclusion“ in Amsterdam (28.-30. August 2017).

This was a direct results of the coordination efforts started at EASA 2016 in Milan, to cooperate more closely.

Ideas to publish some of the material from the meeting, i.e. plans for a book on surveillance, space, materialities have been discussed and are currently worked on.

2018

For EASA 2018 we are also planning to cooperate with PACSA, working title for the planned session: „Security on the Move“.

Mark Maguire, Ursula Rao and Nils Zurawski have worked on the edited volume, Bodies as Evidence, which will be published by Duke University Press during 2018. Quite a few members of EASA have contributed to the volume and we hope to present it at EASA 2018.
